Building Our Future Kenosha

Building Our Future Is Your Business Too!

Building Our Future works to strengthen systems to expand programs that make a positive difference for our future workforce. By aligning all sectors and analyzing results, as a community we can continuously improve our systems for change.

One of the areas Building Our Future is focusing on is early childhood development because it builds a solid foundation where children are empowered to learn and contribute. Studies have shown that $7.30 is returned when a community invests $1 in early childhood.

At the other end of the spectrum, we're expanding into postsecondary and career readiness to immediately impact Kenosha's workforce needs.

As a community, we must do this work together. There are many ways to be involved in early childhood with Building Our Future:

- In-kind donations such as sharing your expertise in marketing or offering insight to a childcare center can help expand our knowledge and ability to communicate across all sectors
- Volunteering with community programs as tutors or a career mentors is a great way to directly impact students
- Monetary contributions aid us in system development and outreach, or connect us with local and national funders
- Designate someone from your company to be a "community supporter"—someone from your organization that will rally your team around the work
- Share the word about Building Our Future in the community and on social media!

We would love to get your organization and employees engaged in this work. To connect, please contact us at info@BuildingOurFutureKC.org.

ACTION NETWORKS

Community Engagement

This partnership represents and includes all the people of Kenosha County. In order to address the needs of our community, we depend on all voices and resources to succeed. There are so many wonderful organizations, businesses, schools, parents, and students. One of our focuses will be to unite the community and actively engage them in all stages of the process to support our youth.

If you are interested in joining the Community Engagement Action Network Team, please email info@BuildingOurFutureKC.org

Kindergarten Readiness

Preparing for kindergarten starts at birth. The academic success of children in later years depends heavily upon how prepared they are starting kindergarten. A child's physical, emotional, and academic foundation directly affect how well they adapt to the school environment and learn.

Our networks teams will actively search out what is currently working and help integrate it into areas of need. This is collective impact, the commitment to work toward a common goal in a collaborative manner.

If you are interested in joining the Kindergarten Readiness Action Network Team, please email info@BuildingOurFutureKC.org.
